

Dear friends,

Thank you for being a special part of Love Goes Home! We partner with national churches in Asia and the Caribbean to rescue children who are at risk of trafficking, abandonment, and a Christless eternity.

God is doing amazing things through your love, prayers, and support. In Haiti and the Dominican Republic, life-sustaining businesses are being started, and abandoned children are being placed into homes of Jesus followers. In Asia, pastors are being sponsored and trained, children's school tuition paid, farm land is being purchased, blankets are given to stave off the freezing cold, and children are rescued from traffickers. All is done with the intention of building Gospel-driven relationships.

Would you consider an even greater role in Love Goes Home? We are praying for ten new ministry partners in the States to join us!

Areas of opportunity:

- Seeking out new support partners-individuals, churches, or organizations for us to contact
- Writing grants for land purchases in Nepal
- Developing prayer-support teams
- Becoming a full or part-time Love Goes Home missionary through Live Global
- Other opportunities as the Lord leads

About the Fam

What is life like in the Shirley home? Every day is exciting, crazy, and different as a missionary family! John travels overseas about every three months. In between trips, the family travels regionally presenting the ministry to new and supporting churches. During the week, Becky continues to work part-time as a nurse practitioner and John works from home.

Kids Update

John Calvin, 24, is a youth leader at church and will begin a pastoral internship this spring.

Hannah, 23, will graduate this spring from Cedarville University with her BA in social work and is engaged to be married.

James, 21, is an avid hunter. He has finished his HVAC training and certification as he prepares for his September wedding.

Sadie, 17, a senior in high school, plans to attend Cedarville in the Fall. She also plays guitar on the worship team at church.

Charles, 9, is enjoying third grade, wants to be a scientist and loves all things with electronic screens.

Rakyla, 8, in second grade, enjoys learning, and loves to draw.

Renee, 6, loves first grade, laughing, and singing.

Carmello, 6, thrives in kinderstart class. He never stops moving and is crazy about penguins.

King, also 5, still at home, never stops talking, playing, and making us laugh. In his spare time he is a "police guy."

Please Pray

- For our family to abide in Christ
- For our national partners' safety and spiritual growth
- For security and salvation for the children we rescue
- For our support to reach 100%, currently at 64%
- For expanded ministry when we are fully supported

With much love and gratitude,

The Shirleys
